

A-LEVEL FILM STUDIES

Option Block 4:	OCR A-Level Film Studies
COURSE DESCRIPTION:
This subject is perfect for students who have a passion for film and cinema and want to learn about its rich history. In A-Level Film studies you will engage with films in different forms and contexts, while understanding how what is made for the screen can relate to our everyday 'real' lives. Students who are creative, critical and analytical will thrive in studying A-Level film.

COURSE INFORMATION

UNIT 1: FILM HISTORY (35%)	Study of 3 US Films and 2 European Film movements from a range of historical periods.
UNIT 2: CRITICAL APPROACHES TO FILM (35%)	Study of a range of films, to which critical theories are applied e.g. Documentary, Non-English Language, Contemporary British.
NEA COURSEWORK (30%)	A study of short films after which students create either a short film or write a screenplay for film.

WHERE CAN A-LEVEL FILM TAKE ME?

You could even get a job at Dagenham's new film studio....

- A career in Film/T.V Production such as a scriptwriter or presenter – or maybe in production as an editor or cinematographer.
- A career in Writing such as Journalism, Magazine writing or film criticism.
- Jobs in Advertising and Marketing
- Roles in Business and Social Media
- Further study at degree level: Filmmaking, Film Studies, Film Production, Scriptwriting ...

